The banks are divided into three classes. Those of the first class may receive deposits to any amount. Those of the second class are limited as to the amount of a single depositor and the amount which may be credited to an account in any one month. Offices of the third class receive deposits only by means of stamps. Interest at the rate of 21/2 per cent per annum is allowed on deposits of 1 peso up to 1,000 pesos for individuals and up to 2,000 pesos for charitable and benevolent societies. Any resident of the islands six years of age or over may open an account. Deposits are free from taxation and deposit books are not recognized as a proper security for a debt or other obligations.
